VOL. 10 SUPPLEMENT 2 NOVEMBER 2024

This is Supplement 2 of the Special Edition of the Ibero-American Journal of Health and Aging entirely dedicated to the publication of the papers presented at the III SIRVE – III Network Seminar International Research on Vulnerability, Health, Safety and Quality of Life of the Elderly.

A number of universities from different parts of the world have decided to establish a partnership with the objectives of producing and disseminating research concerning the following themes: vulnerability, health, safety and quality of life among elderly individuals. The partner universities are as follows:

- Catholic University of Murcia (Spain),
- Federal University of Rio Grande do Norte (Brazil),
- Catholic University of Pernambuco (Brazil),
- State University of Campinas (Brazil),
- Université Paris Cite (France) and
- University of Évora – School of Nursing of S. João de Deus.

These entities met in Évora on the 5th, 6th and 7th of June 2024 with the objective of sharing the work that had been performed as of that point, which was sorted on the basis of the following themes:

- Aging safely in different contexts.
- Mental health, violence and family support during the aging process.
- Learning processes during the elderly stage of life.
- Psychosocial aspects of human aging.
- Quality of life and interventions to support active and healthy aging.
- Ethical and forensic aspects and human development in aging.
